

BAKER COLLEGE

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

DHY 1410 Oral Pathology
2 Semester Hours

Student Learning Outcomes

1. Construct a preliminary diagnosis of oral lesions through the analysis of the characteristics of lesions, variants of normal and benign conditions.
 2. Distinguish between the various types and symptoms of inflammation and describe the tissue repair process.
 3. Analyze immunity and the diseases associated with immunological causes.
 4. Classify various infectious diseases.
 5. Classify various developmental disorders.
 6. Analyze genetic diseases.
 7. Classify various malignancies and their causes.
 8. Describe nonneoplastic diseases of bone.
 9. Summarize the oral manifestations of systemic diseases.
 10. Classify types of temporomandibular joint disorders and dental implants, including their diagnostic procedures.
 11. Analyze the signs, symptoms, etiology, prognosis and treatment of an assigned disease through a written assignment.
-

These SLOs are not approved for experiential credit.

Effective: Fall 2017