

BAKER COLLEGE

STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

EDU 3460
Integrating Technology to 21st Century Learning
3 Semester Hours

Student Learning Outcomes & Enabling Objectives

- SLO 1. Examine the influence and implication of technology and media. (InTASC 2j, 3i, & 3m)
- Describe the role of 21st century teachers and the characteristics of 21st century learners.
 - Illustrate how technology influences the 21st century learning environment.
 - Summarize the main concepts of technology literacy.
 - Depict the key copyright laws and other ethical issues in technology in education.
 - Analyze personal and professional social media presence (cyberbullying, photo and video release, appropriate sharing, security, malware)
- SLO 2. Explore how to integrate technology and media into instructional processes. (InTASC 2g, 3b, 3e, & 3g)
- Illustrate the advantages and limitations of instructional technology.
 - Depict the characteristics, benefits and challenges of different types of learning formats such as face-to-face, distance learning, blended learning and virtual learning.
 - Apply appropriate technology integration methods to achieve instructional goals.
 - Reflect on personal classroom practice and how to apply these experiences to future teaching.
- SLO 3. Develop technology-enrich learning environment that encourages students actively participate learning community. (InTASC 3b, ISTE 2b)
- Describe the principles of effective technology and media utilization.
 - Explore a variety of online applications that can support instruction, curriculum planning and assessment.
 - Use technology to support differentiation of instruction and special-need students.
 - Create a digital formative assessment.
 - Apply visual information, audio, and video to support learning experiences and teaching strategies.
- SLO 4. Apply appropriate technology and applications in collaboration, productivity, communication, professional growth and life-long learning. (InTASC 3h, 8g, 9c, 10n)
- Apply current technology and social media to communicate with parents and students.
 - Explore a variety of online resources to collaborate with colleagues and continue professional growth.

These SLOs are not approved for experiential credit.

Effective: Fall 2017