

BAKER COLLEGE
STUDENT LEARNING OUTCOMES

HUS 3410 Child and Family Policy
3 Semester Credit Hours

Student Learning Outcomes and Enabling Objectives

1. Differentiate types of family violence.
 - a. Examine signs and symptoms of family violence.
 - b. Compare types of violence that occurs in families, including:
 - i. Intergenerational violence
 - ii. Child abuse
 - iii. Intimate partner violence
 - iv. Elder abuse
 - c. Explore the cycles of violence.
 - d. Explore systemic variables within families, on a micro level, that perpetuate the cycle of family violence.
 - e. Examine the influence of culture on family violence.
 - f. Examine the impact disabilities have on family violence.
2. Examine the etiology of family violence across the lifespan.
 - a. Examine the history of family violence in the U.S.
 - b. Examine systemic variables, on a macro level, that perpetuate family violence.
 - c. Analyze the effects of intergenerational trauma on family violence.
3. Evaluate the public policies, laws, ethics, and practices related to family violence.
 - a. Explain the impact public policy and laws have on family violence.
 - b. Explore the NOHS Code of Ethics standards that are relevant to family violence.
4. Analyze evidence-based prevention and intervention strategies.
 - a. Explain theories used to study family violence.
 - b. Assess the prevention and intervention strategies used to address family violence.
 - c. Determine protective and resiliency factors that impact family violence.
5. Explore the impact of self-awareness, personal feelings, and values related to family violence.
 - a. Assess the impact of self-awareness, personal feelings, and values related to family violence.

- b. Recognize the impact of self-awareness, personal feelings, and values have on your interactions with clients.

Big Ideas and Essential Questions

Big Ideas

- Policy, Laws, and Ethics
- Family Violence
- Sociocultural and Systemic Variables
- Prevention and Intervention

Essential Questions

1. How is the definition of family violence constructed?
2. How do policies and laws impact family violence?
3. Why is it important to look at the impact of systemic variables, on a micro and macro level, when examining family violence?
4. How do prevention and intervention strategies for addressing family violence impact society, on a micro and macro level?

These SLOs are not approved for experiential credit.

Effective: Fall 2023